NINE-FOOT MUSTACHE.-James H. Brown, issue clerk at the Fort Hall Indian agency, Ross Fork, Bingham county, Idaho, has the longest mustache of any man living. It measures nine feet from tip to tip, four and a half feet each way from the center of the lip. This mustache is Mr. Brown's greatest joy and pride.

It is most carefully kept, and would attract marked attention anywhere. The Indians look upon this enormously long mustache with awe and reverence, believing Mr. Brown to have been exceptionally blessed by God.

Mr. Brown is by birth a Virginian.

He was born in Loudoun county, eleven miles west of Leesburg, near what is known now as Round Hill. His father moved from Loudoun county to Barbour county, then in Virginia, but now in West Virginia, in October, 1857. Mr. Brown's occupation has always b en that of a farmer, with the exception of a period of eighteen years, which he devoted to the lumber business, and the time he has been giving to Uncle Sam. Fourteen months ago Mr. Brown was appointed issue clerk at the Fort Hall Indian agency, which position he is still filling.

The fame of Mr. Brown's elongated mustache is by no means confined to the wilds of Idaho. It is known throughout the Virginias and the south generally. The newspapers of the towns visited by Mr. Brown have loudly extolled the wonderful length of his mustache.-New York Journal.

THE CORPSE OPENED HER EYES .-For several days Mrs. Jeff Mapp, a middle-aged lady, of Forsythe, Ga., has been very ill, and on Thursday she was supposed to have expired. To all appearances life was entirely extinct, and the lady was prepared for burial. A number of friends sat up with the corpse during the night, and the funeral was announced to take place the next day. All the necessary arrangements were made, and at the appointed hour a large number of neighbors were present to attend the obsequies. The casket did not arrive until a short time before the funeral was to take place. While being placed in the casket the body was seen to move. In another instant those around Mrs. Mapp were startled to see her open her eyes. The surprise and excitement occasioned by this singular occurrence were intense The casket was hastily carried from the room and a physician summoned. The awe-stricken friends quickly dis persed. Mrs. Mapp, though very ill, is still alive, and there are indications of her recovery.

The little daughter of Mr. Fred Webber, Holland, Mass., had a very bad cold and cough which he had not been able to cure with any thing. I gave him a 25 cent bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, says W. P. Holden, merchant and postmaster at West Brimfield, and the next time I saw him he said it worked like a charm. This remedy is intended especially for acute throat and lung diseases such as colds, croup and whooping cough, and it is famous for its cures. There is no danger in giving it to children for it contains nothing injurious. For sale by L. Stabler & Co., Druggists.

"Racteria do not occur in the blood or in the tissues of a healthy living body, even of man or the lower animals." So says the celebrated Dr. Koch. Other doctors say that the best medicine to render the blood perfectly pure and healthy is Ayer's Sarsaparilla.
